Florence Stocker joined Chambers as a third six pupil having completed a mixed practice pupillage at a leading set on the South Eastern Circuit . Under the supervision of Lisa Dobie, she accepts instructions across all of Chambers' practice areas.

Florence attended Newcastle University where she studied law, before completing the Bar Practice Course at Northumbria University. Before pupillage, Florence worked as a Judicial Clerk for Lord Justice William Davis where she gained valuable insight into appellate work and the drafting and implementation of the Sentencing Council Guidelines.

In her spare time Florence enjoys cycling, dancing, and sewing; she has a particular interest in designing and making her own clothes.
